EIGHT NEW ROSA ROBOTS SOLD IN FISCAL Q2 2016

SALES INCLUDE THE FIRST ON THE AUSTRALIAN MARKET

Montpellier, France, January 5th, 2016 – MEDTECH (Euronext, FR0010892950 – ROSA), a company specialized in designing, developing and marketing innovative surgical assistance robots, announced eight new sales of its ROSA™ robot during its fiscal second quarter 2016 (October 1 to December 31, 2015).

These sales were made in the United States of America, the United Kingdom and, for the first time, in Australia. The sales show significant growth for Medtech, as three ROSA™ robots were sold during the same period the previous year.

Bertin Nahum, CEO and Founder of Medtech, said: “We are delighted with the results for this quarter as they confirm the strong acceleration in sales and demonstrate the high performance of our ROSA™ robot’s commercial deployment on the American, European and now Australian markets.”

Sales made over the last quarter in detail follow:

Australia:

This first sale in Australia was made to Mater Hospital (Brisbane) through Medtech’s distributor, Surgicom, about six months after receiving approval for sale on the Australian market and signing the distribution contract.

United Kingdom:

Harley Street Clinic (London) is an internationally-famous private establishment renowned for oncology, cardiology and neuroscience. The pediatric neurosurgery department is the largest private unit of its kind in the country.

United States:

New York-Presbyterian Hospital / Columbia University Medical Center (New York) specializes in the treatment of epilepsy. After acquiring its first robot in February 2015, this American center made a second ROSA™ robot acquisition.

St. Louis Children’s Hospital, Washington University (Saint Louis) is one of the most prestigious hospital establishments specialized in pediatric medical and surgical care. In 2015, it was classified among the best American hospitals for children by U.S. News & World Report.

Press Release

Children's Hospital of Atlanta (Georgia) is the largest American pediatric establishment, according to the 2013 figures from the public health information system. The hospital was also classified among the best 10 American pediatric hospitals in terms of quality of care by U.S. News & World Report.

Children's Hospital Colorado (Aurora, Colorado) is a prestigious private pediatric establishment, famous for its treatment of epilepsy. This hospital center was also recognized by U.S. News & World Report for its quality of care.

Norton Brownsboro Hospital (Louisville, Kentucky) is a renowned hospital for the treatment of neurological disorders such as epilepsy.

Harborview Medical Center (Seattle, Washington) offers high quality health care in the field of neurosurgery, and specializes in the treatment of severe epilepsy.

Next communication: Figures for the 2015/2016 half-yearly report (ended 31/12/2015) to be published on January 12, 2016, before the stock exchange.
